You

You are an academic in a time period of your choosing, and your insatiable curiosity has driven you to study the occult texts and artifacts that are now leading you to the Master. Retrieve two sheets of paper (or index cards if you are comfortable writing very small) then choose one to be your Self and the other your Transformation. Stack the papers with your Self on top, and write “My sense of self” in the center of it. Then choose five body parts from the list on the left and write them, with added description, in a star arrangement around your sense of self.

You are driven by Curiosity, Fear, and Desire, each of which start at a rank of 4. When you roll with one of your drives, roll a die with the same number of sides as its current rank.

The Master

An eldritch being from time immemorial. To know Her touch is to know a sublime agony and thirst for more. At times your desire will bring about a transformation. When it does, tear away a piece of yourself to reveal the Transformation beneath and write your changed form on it. The Master's realm is not safe for you, but perhaps in time it will be.

Society

The society you live in is repressive and harsh, ever-seeking to maintain its norms against the forces of change. It will punish you for straying from your role, or for pursuing ideas it thinks are dangerous, but you need its approval to survive in this world. If you cannot fit in, you will be shunned. If you cannot change, you will never be free.

The Work

At each stage of your work you will roll a single 8 sided die to determine what happens next. The game ends when you roll with one of your drives and get a result of 11 or 12 and you fulfill the result. Your curiosity drives you forward, your fear of failure stays your hand, and your desire for the Master pulls you ever-closer to the edge of oblivion. But enough talk:

The work must continue...
1-3	Society pulls you away from your work. Roll with Fear.
4-5	Your work continues uninterrupted. Roll with Curiosity.
6-8	You cannot resist the Master's call. Roll with Desire.

Roll with...	Fear	Curiosity	Desire
1	Your peers shame you for your ridiculous pursuits. Increase Fear by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12.	You decipher a scrap of ancient text, and the ritual becomes clearer. Increase Curiosity by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12.	Your research leads you to a new carnal craving and you indulge. Increase Desire by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12. If you do, also transform.
2	You're reminded of your earthly attachments. Increase Fear by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12.	You make contact with someone who holds an artifact connected to the Master. Increase Curiosity by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12.	Thoughts of Her drive you to acts of ritual self-pleasure. Increase Desire by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12. If you do, also transform.
3	You lose track of time immersing yourself in your work. What did you neglect?	Your experimentation yields a surprising result. Increase Curiosity by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12.	You are struck by sexual urges when you cannot indulge them. How does the situation amplify your anticipation?
4	You receive a warning against pursuing your research. What consequences do they threaten?	The Master's distant call susurrates in your dreams. Choose: Roll with Fear OR Roll with Desire.	Something previously innocuous sends a shiver through your body. How did it remind you of the Master?
5	A rumor about you begins to spread. What is it?	You discover a new facet of the Master's love for you. What is it?	You realize that an object connected to the Master has changed to please you. What is it?
6	A change in local policy complicates your research. How?	Your research uncovers something about the Master's realm. Choose: Roll with Fear OR Roll with Desire.	The Master's attention falls on an aspect of your transformation. How do you use it to please Her?
7	A former colleague publicly disavows you. What did they mean to you?	The Master has been imprisoned for innumerable years. What do you learn of Her confinement?	Your work allows you to liaise with the Master in your dreams. Increase Desire by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12. If you do, also transform.
8	A loved one expresses concern about your work. How do their words reveal hidden judgement?	The Master reveals some intention for your world. Choose: Roll with Fear OR Roll with Desire.	One of your rituals allows the Master to manifest for a time. How does She reward you?
9	You lose access to something you took for granted. How does this change the way you move through society?	You stumble across your oldest notes. What new insight do you gain reading them now?	You open a gateway to the outskirts of the Master's realm. What pleasures does she show you? Increase Desire by one rank to 6, 8, 10, or 12. If you do, also transform.
10	Someone you trusted lashes out at you in hatred. Who are they, and how are you harmed?	You catch a glimpse of the Master's true form. Choose: Roll with Fear OR roll with Desire.	The Master shows you another, changed as you've been. How does their transformation arouse you?
11-12	You abandon your work forever. Destroy your transformations—the torn edges of your self remain as shameful reminders of the change you were too fearful to pursue.	You finally understand what the Master has been preparing you for. Choose: Complete your transformation, changing each of your remaining body parts but keeping your sense of self, and join the Master in her realm of orgasmic pleasure. OR Turn from the Master, and return to society forever changed.	The ritual is complete. Undergo your final transformation, then destroy your sense of self and give yourself over fully to the lustful and eternal embrace of the Master.
